SURFACE ENVIRONMENTS AS A FORMWORK SOLUTION

After working with many Clients with scour challenges, CMG began designing custom solutions. From there, ScourTech was created. A fully flexible, custom designed scour bag – with all the certified technical specifications you need on your project.

ScourTech is different because every product is made to order within Australia. We can design scour solutions from plans, or provide divers to survey the area and take measurements.

All our bags come with certified technical specifications to suit your goals, and achieve certification by your Engineers.
